Why do I need compliance?

It is now law to have the barrier inspected and a compliance certificate issued and handed to council.

Rentsafe's Pool Compliance Check makes this process easy and simple with water safety and compliance our #1 priority

What you need to know and do:

1. Register your pool / spa with your Council
2. Council will advise you in writing of the date your pool / spa was constructed and the specific standards the inspector will need to apply.
 - a. Keep this letter somewhere safe, as you will need to show it to the inspector
3. Have your pool / spa barrier inspected by one of our registered inspectors and receive a
4. Certificate of Compliance. Submit your Certificate of Compliance to Council within 30 days.
5. Enjoy your pool / spa but don't forget it needs to be inspected every 4 years

Most Pool / Spa owners believe their barrier is compliant however industry data indicates that more than 90% of barriers are not compliant.

If a barrier is not compliant PoolSide Inspections will advise you in writing and with photos of what rectification work is required.

Once this work is completed the barrier must be reinspected. The law states that the owner must bring the barrier into compliance and reinspected within a 60 day period of the first inspection.
